DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claim 27 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the enablement requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention.

The instant claim recites a process for hydrocyanation, isomerization of olefins, or amidocarbonylation in the presence of a heteroacylphosphine of formula (I). However, the specification, including the examples only exemplifies a hydroformylation reaction in the presence of said heteroacylphosphine. Although not expressly stated in the claim, the compound of formula (I) is employed in a catalytic function, complexed with a catalytically active metal. Since applicants provide no guidance as to what substrates, i.e., reactants, what reaction conditions, etc., are employable for the claimed hydrocyanation, isomerization or amidocarbonylation reactions, it would constitute undue experimentation for a person having ordinary skill to provide any known reactant for such reactions, to manipulate reaction conditions, etc, in order to conduct such a process wherein a heteroacylphosphine of formula (I) is employed. The examiner contends that the instant claim is therefore not enabled.

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claim 27 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

The instant claim provides no positive method steps for the claimed process(es); as such, it is unclear to the examiner what the process is that applicants are actually claiming.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 15-26 and 28 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Burke et al (US 6,664,427).

The claims are drawn to a process for hydroformylating olefins in the presence of a heteroacylphosphite of formula (I) of a metal complex thereof.

Burke et al teach process for preparing aldehydes by hydroformylation of an unsaturated compound in the presence of a catalyst system comprising a Group VIII metal and a bidentate phosphorus ligand (abstract).

Ligands found from column 7 to column 12 may be employed, and unsaturated compounds having from 2 to 20 carbon atoms may be reacted at temperatures from 50 to 150° C and pressures from standard to about 20 MPa (col. 13, line 18 to col. 14, line 41).

The instant claims are rendered obvious in view of Burke et al since the reference teaches very similar ligands, and process taught essentially encompasses the claimed process.
